VOLUME III
June, 1955

Within the pages of this book we have preserved a partial record of our school activities -- a record that will become more valuable to us as the years go by.

We wish to express our thanks to the citizens of our area, to our parents, to the administration, and to the faculty for their help and guidance in giving us the happiest and most beneficial years of our lives.

BASKETBALL

Although the basketball season was not as successful as last year, the girls did a fine job. Every game has been exciting, and the team never gave up. Our first game at Bucksport was really a rough game. At Pemetic it was nip-and-tuck all the way, with plenty of excitement. Our second game with Bucksport was the game of the year being tied at the final whistle. In an overtime we came out on top. At a rough Bar Harbor game, the team couldn't settle down to play Bar Harbor's brand of ball. The Pemetic game at Sumner was another close one, but this time the girls came out on top.

"JOKES"

A tramp passing through Steuben stopped at Mrs. Tracy's house.

"Lady," he entreated, "please have mercy on me. I haven't eaten for four days."

"My heavens!" Mrs. Tracy gasped, "I certainly wish I had your will power."

Etta: "Did you hear the one about the man who stayed up all night?"

Rip: "No, why did he?"

Etta: "He was studying for his blood test."

Terry: "Is it true that I'm made of dust?"

Mr. Thurston: "Don't worry about that. If you were, you'd dry up some time."

Pussy (at garage): "I wonder if you can fix my car."

Mechanic: "I'll try, Ma'am. What's wrong?"

Pussy: "Well, my father said there was a screw loose in the driver."

Mr. Grant: "What inspired the oldtime pioneers to set forth in their covered wagons?"

Blaine: "Well, maybe they didn't want to wait about thirty years for a train."

Freshman: "Going around a lot with women keeps you young."

Junior: "Why's that?"

Freshman: "I started going around with women when I was a freshman two years ago, and I'm still a freshman."

Dick: "Did you hear about the fellow who got a dog for his girl friend?"

Bill C.: "No."

Dick: "He said he'd like to get a trade like that every time."

Mom: "Did you eat those cakes I had in the pantry?"

Billy Morris: "No, Mom, I didn't touch one."

Mom: "Well, there's only one left."

Billy: "That's the one I didn't touch."

Mrs. Wooster: "What's the difference between 'madame' and 'mademoiselle'?"

Larry Torrey: "Monsieur."

Found on a biology paper: " 'Wild life' is something that used to grow in the fields, but now grows in the city."

Carroll (touring in his new car): "Where are we now?"

Chauffeur: "Halfway between Paris and Marseilles, sir."

Carroll: "Don't bother me with trifling little details. What country are we in?"
